JANUARY / FEBRUARY EDITION - 2024

Joint National Conclave and Officers' Academy is Massive Success

The 2024 National Conclave and Officers' Academy was held January 12 - January 14, 2024, in Williamsburg, Virginia, and was a great success for Alpha Kappa Lambda!

This event has become the largest AKL event with members representing every active chapter and increased alumni participation. National Conclave and Officers' Academy brings together undergraduate members, alumni members, the National Executive Council, National Headquarters staff, as well as family and friends for a weekend of business, brotherhood, and fun.

The Clark - Thompson Presidents' Academy & Officers' Institute will return to Carmel, Indiana, January 24 - 26, 2025

FROM THE DESK OF THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

February marked my 23rd Anniversary working for our great Fraternity. So much has changed during that time. So much has stayed the same. In some cases, some things have come full circle. When I started on staff Alpha Kappa Lambda was in a rebuild phase. Significant changes on college campuses in the 1990's had caused membership decline in all Fraternities. The 2000's changed all that with robust growth connected to a generation of students that had "joining" in their DNA. After COVID, the Fraternity, like many others, found itself back where it was twenty years ago.

Ironically "back then" our annual summer Officers' Academy was connected with Conclave on convention years. After a while, due to students' interests, we moved that Academy and attached it to the Presidents' Academy in January. As we have shared in the past few editions of Inside AKL, Conclave is now in January and now reattached to Officers' Academy. We have come full circle except for the time of year. Amazing how that works.

Just like twenty years ago today we are focused on rebuilding. That means growing our current chapters as well as expanding to new (and old) campuses around the country. What is different than twenty years ago is the "how". The days of sending staff onto a campus for months to recruit no longer exist. The driving force for establishing new groups is lead generation from members and online marketing. While our office can handle the online marketing we need lead generation. Help us identify men on college campuses we can work with to start new groups. That is how our provisional chapter at East Carolina University started last fall. It is also how an interest group at another school has started with us this semester (we hope for an official announcement in the coming month).

I hope for a great upcoming spring for all of our members.

-Jeremy Slivinski, AKL Executive Director

National Conclave & Officers' Academy is Celebration of Alpha Kappa Lambda

While the 2024 National Conclave and Officers' Academy was a new joint endeavor for the Fraternity of Alpha Kappa Lambda, it was not lacking in the long traditions that AKL upholds.

For the first time in many years, Alpha Kappa Lambda hosted both events together with better attendance, reduced costs for attendees, and allowed for more training opportunities for officers.

The Business of the Fraternity

Officers and attendees were able to participate in the National Conclave and fulfill their roles as delegates of their chapter to conduct the business of the fraternity. Voting on resolutions, participating in the Ritual Ceremony and Omega Ceremony, and electing national officers, were just a small part of the events at the National Conclave.

Educational Opportunities and Skill-Building Sessions

Officer training opportunities were provided to Chapter Presidents, Vice-Presidents, Risk Managers, Treasurers, Recruitment Chairs, and Emerging Leaders. National Conclave and Officers' Academy wasn't just about inspiration; it was also about education and skill-building. Workshops and sessions covered topics ranging from effective leadership and organizational management to effective recruitment tactics and working through a crisis. Attendees left with practical knowledge and tools to elevate their chapters and contribute positively to their communities.

New National President Elected

Hamilton Galloway, '01 - Alpha Phi Chapter, Idaho

Why run for National President?

Alpha Kappa Lambda played a significant role in my personal development as an undergraduate and continues to positively shape me through my ongoing engagement and service to the organization. To this day, my brothers are among my best friends and closest confidants. As an affiliation that is genuinely binding for life our Five Ideals and creed call on us to always seek and strive for Alethia Kai Logos (The Truth and the Word). Within that seeking, my professional and personal journey took me from Idaho, to England and eventually to New York, AND throughout most of that, I have been fortunate to remain connected to AKL—starting with serving on my chapter's corporation board to eventually serving on the NEC.

In these experiences, I have been enriched through engaging brothers from all generations and walks of life. Ultimately, serving as National President, giving my time and talents to the Fraternity to help build on what AKL's past presidents and NHQ have achieved, is a calling that I felt compelled and motivated to answer.

Difficulties and challenging times—whether personally/professionally, organizationally, or within the walls of a chapter—sometimes cloud our ability to see the greatness that is our Fraternity. Having served in NEC during one of our most challenging periods as a fraternity (COVID) and the sacrifices made to ensure that our Fraternity endured, I am encouraged by the commitment of our diverse brotherhood to our organization AND our ability to navigate through troubled waters. While the storm clouds of COVID are for the most part behind us, we do face new challenges. University enrollment declines coupled with ever-evolving social norms require us to critically think about how we approach supporting and developing our undergraduate members, provide support and value to alumni members, and position our national brand. One of my goals is to focus our national efforts on establishing a National Fraternity identity that builds upon a positive collegiate experience to become a lifetime experience, underpinned by an alumni engagement and support network.

Alpha Kappa Lambda has a legacy of leadership excellence and my predecessors have set high bars for their stewardship of AKL. I am humbled by this legacy and look forward to building on the strong foundation set by those committed to the continued success of our Fraternity.

Alumni Spotlight

Eric Jakubiak - Kappa Chapter, Purdue

Eric Jakubiak remodeled his basement bathroom in gold and black during a pandemic quarantine.

You wouldn't necessarily look at the photo and understand its significance unless you were a Boilermaker — and even then, you'd need to be Eric Jakubiak or one of his friends to know the full story.

The photo features a group of college-aged boys wearing loud Hawaiian shirts and posing with a mustachioed, middle-aged gentleman wearing an outfit that emphasizes the black in Purdue's signature gold-and-black color scheme.

The boys wearing Hawaiian shirts are Jakubiak and some of his Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity brothers from Purdue. "They did a blackout game at Mackey Arena for a basketball game and, for whatever silly reason, we all decided to wear Hawaiian shirts so we'd stick out like a sore thumb," recalls Jakubiak (BSME '03).

And the older gentleman in the photo who actually followed instructions by wearing black to the game? That's Joe Tiller, the Boilermakers' iconic football coach, whom Jakubiak and his buddies just happened to bump into in the basketball arena's restroom. Fortunately, somebody had the good sense to snap a photo for posterity's sake.

Alumni Spotlight

Eric Jakubiak - Kappa Chapter, Purdue

"That's definitely a good memory," Jakubiak says.

The photo's value is purely sentimental, and yet it's one of Jakubiak's favorite items in the handcrafted lockers in his basement that showcase his Purdue memorabilia. And it's a perfect example of why so many folks love to create fan caves like his.

Whether you call it a fan cave, a she shed, a man cave or any of the countless variations, the great thing about these spaces is that they give their owner an opportunity to show visitors who they are.

What their interests are. The cool stuff they've collected. Personal accomplishments. What they like to do in their free time. Who, and what, they care about.

The basement of Jakubiak's home in the western Chicago suburbs is just such a space. There's a pool table and beer-related paraphernalia. There are models of equipment from Caterpillar, where he has worked for nearly two decades. And there's enough Chicago Cubs memorabilia to make it abundantly clear where his loyalties lie during baseball season.

Then there's the huge, gold-and-black basement bathroom, which the DIY enthusiast remodeled a couple of years ago during a 10-day quarantine after coming down with COVID-19.

Fortunately, I only felt bad for a day and then I had nine days of doing nothing," Jakubiak says. "And I can't do nothing, so I worked on the bathroom the whole time."

He had his dad drop off construction materials and then went to work, building the lockers for his Boilermaker collection out of some old doors. Adding to the locker room aesthetic, he hung two Boilermaker jerseys in there: the No. 15 jersey made famous by Super Bowl-winning quarterback Drew Brees on the side that houses mostly football items, and a plain Purdue basketball jersey on the side that is largely dedicated to hoops.

Jakubiak hopes to someday replace the two jerseys with one autographed by Brees himself, plus another signed by Purdue basketball legend Glenn "Big Dog" Robinson, the 1994 national player of the year and No. 1 overall NBA draft pick.

Alumni Spotlight

Eric Jakubiak - Kappa Chapter, Purdue

“(Robinson) was a little bit before my time, but he was a guy that I watched when I was younger before I went to Purdue,” says Jakubiak, who grew up in Muncie, Indiana. “He’s one of the reasons I became a Purdue basketball fan.”

In the football locker next to the photo of Tiller, Jakubiak and his Hawaiian shirt-wearing pals is a ball that Tiller autographed with the inscription “Remember the Rose Bowl,” a reference to Purdue’s 2001 appearance in the oldest and most historic bowl game of them all.

But in reality, Jakubiak has no difficulty remembering Brees’ and the Boilermakers’ trip to Pasadena. He was there, too, and his ticket from the game is on display inside the case.

“That’s a cool memory because I got to fly out to the Rose Bowl when Purdue went there, and we haven’t been back since. It might have been a once-in-a-lifetime thing,” Jakubiak says. “We lost to Washington, but it was a blast being there over New Year’s. That was super fun.”

Among other notable items in the lockers is another prized possession — a basketball autographed by Hall of Fame Boilermakers basketball coach Gene Keady — and lots of additional items with sentimental value like Purdue gifts from his family, fraternity big-brother paddles, and drinkware and art from the West Lafayette bars where Jakubiak and his friends spent many memorable nights in college.

The location of Jakubiak’s Purdue fan cave may seem a bit unusual — a fan bathroom is unique to say the least — but he nonetheless found a way to use the available space to memorialize a well-rounded college experience that he treasures. Taken as a whole, the displayed items strike a balance between memorabilia that any loyal Boilermaker would love to own as well as pieces that are significant only to him.

“Every time I walk in that bathroom, I have good memories,” he says.

As it should be in any fan cave.

Bone Marrow Drive Finds Match

The Fraternity of Alpha Kappa Lambda was notified in early February that a Bone Marrow Drive hosted by the Gamma Pi Chapter at UConn in 2022 had produced a match.

“On Sep 25, 2022, you helped facilitate a donor drive in Storrs at UConn Alpha Kappa Lambda. We are thrilled to inform you that a donor recruited at that drive has matched for a 71-year-old man battling Chronic Myelogenous Leukemia. We are truly grateful for all you have done to help grow the Gift of Life Marrow Registry, and we thank you for being a part of our family of dedicated volunteers.”

Speaking with former Chapter President, Sam Ward, he explained, “Another chapter on campus had done it and we heard about it so they reached out to us. Gift of Life volunteers came into the chapter meeting and swabbed the majority of the chapter that was there that night.”

A representative for Gift of Life went on to state, “On behalf of Gift of Life Marrow Registry thank you for allowing us to educate your chapter about our history and mission in September 2022... Without your chapter, this match may not have been found.”

According to their website, “Gift of Life’s mission is to cure blood cancer through cellular therapy. At Gift of Life we believe every person battling blood cancer deserves a second chance at life — and we are determined to make it happen. We are singularly passionate about engaging the public to help us get everyone involved in curing blood cancer, whether as a donor, a volunteer or a financial supporter. It all begins with one remarkable person, one life-changing swab and one huge win — finding a match and a cure.”

AKL
Foundations

AKL Foundations is the required education taking place during the New Member Entry Process that is designed to make joining members better leaders by educating them on the issues facing college students today. As members of the Greek system, students are campus leaders and role models. As leaders, they may face challenging situations. It is how they respond to these difficult situations that helps them learn and develop into effective leaders who make a positive contribution to the campus community.

While our members may not encounter these challenges personally, they may have brothers or friends who do. Through AKL Foundations, our members will practice the decision-making necessary to effectively deal with alcohol and drugs, hazing, sexual violence, and mental health issues in AKL chapters and the campus community.

Fraternity Growth & Recruitment

For any organization to be sustainable and grow, every member must be committed to recruitment. Fraternity recruitment should not be the sole responsibility of the Recruitment Chair.

Every year, the National Fraternity sets Recruitment Minimum Targets for each AKL chapter. These minimums are based on campus size, past recruitment results, and input from chapter leadership. The following chart is the 23 - 24 academic year recruitment minimums and results following the Fall and ongoing Spring semesters.

Omega Chapter Announcements

"Brothers and friends, we are assembled to remember those once among us who have received their calling from on high and passed into the eternal Omega Chapter of the Fraternity of Alpha Kappa Lambda. This is at once a time of sorrow at the loss we have all sustained, and the celebration of the many happy memories we will hold dear forever.

The fraternal tie that binds is a lasting bond; yet, a place once filled among us is now empty; a voice once known to us is now silent; the form we grew to know, and welcome will no longer be seen by us in this life. Yet, these Brothers are alive in the hearts and the memories of us all and will ever be held dear in the 'halls of Alpha Kappa Lambda.' It is fitting that we here pause and reflect upon the transience of life and remember those who have come and gone before us.

And we answer for every Brother named, 'Present' for though we can no longer grasp their hands in friendship nor look them in the eye, they are seen and heard with the eyes and ears of faith... the faith that someday we will meet again."

- Excerpt from the Omega Ceremony
