The Purdue Plan For Fraternity Finance

By

Walt Wessman, Grand Treasurer

On Wisconsin

With the beginning of the school year of 1924-25, the Purdue plan was installed at Gamma. In giving the details of operations of this financial plan I shall review the preliminary steps taken previous to the adoption of a scientific financial system by Gamma.

During the past two years, an educational campaign has been carried on with the alumni and active members. In November, 1923, four alumni were elected and they together with the house president were to install the plan. The active members of the house during the year voted to accept this new financial arrangement.

Of course, the question came up, "Why install a new financial plan?" Just a few reasons follow:

1. To put the chapter on a definite financial basis.

2. To run the house on a scientific budget system.

3. To put the control of the real and personal property in the hands of the alumni thus insuring a better care of such property.

4. To place the management in a more stable and mature body.

5. To provide means to decrease the debt on the property more rapidly, and eventually provide for a new home.

Gamma had been operating on a budget system, but it was not a scientific operation. The budget failed to set up depreciation reserves, or maintenance funds. When the chapter membership was low, the budget was not met, and it was a terrific stretch to pay bills. When membership became normal, the budget was little more than met, but there was never any working profit that would bulge a pocket-book.

With the installation of the new system we are accomplishing our objectives, and have eliminated the sore spots of previous financial administrations. At the beginning of the present school year, the board of trustees held a meeting with the

The Annual Conclave of Alpha Kappa Lambda will be held with Epsilon at Madison, Wisconsin, December 29th-31st. The Conclave will not be one of speech-making and felicitation, but will be in the main devoted to a consideration of the reports of four Commissioners, who have been at work all the year and will bring in recommendations for discussion, revision and formal adoption. These will be on the subjects of Organization, Preservation of Fraternity Ideals, National and Local Finance, and Expansion.

President Lyle Gage of Epsilon wishes attention of all the chapters, undergraduate and alumni, to be called to the Conclave, and gives a warm welcome to all who can be the guests of Epsilon for the period. Madison, he says, will be in the height of its glory at Christmas time, with the four lakes frozen over, and with ice-boating, tobogganing, skiing, and other winter sports rarely to be enjoyed by the brothers living to the south. Epsilon's new home, which has been revamped during the summer, will offer its commodious halls and rooms to all guests. The plans are to open the Conclave with a dinner and to close with a banquet. A large attendance is desired, and the boys of Epsilon are anxious to have word from those expecting to come.

house treasurer, house manager and commissar to budget the house for the coming school year. The figures for the budget were obtained on the basis of expenditures for the previous two years as far as expenses were concerned which included such items as insurance, taxes and all items in Division B. The amount for Reduction of Principal, Furniture Maintenance and

Replacement, Property Maintenance and Replacement were arrived at after much deliberation by the trustees and house officers as to what burden the active members could meet on their monthly house bill.

The budget adopted for Gamma for the school year 1924-25 is:

Division A.

1. Accumulation (Annual Basis) Reduction of principal and interest payment on house debt	$2,000.00
Insurance	50.00
Taxes	250.00
Furniture maintenance and replacement	200.00
Property maintenance and replacement	600.00
Miscellaneous or contingency fund	300.00

$3,400.00

$$3,400.00 \div 9 = \377.77 payable per month to Gamma Alumni of Alpha Kappa Lambda.

Division B.

2. (Monthly Basis)
Food and help—75c per man per day 30 days—28 men	$630.00
Utilities and Miscellaneous	27.50
Salaries	65.00
Coal	31.00
Activities Fund	133.00
Annex Rent	66.00
Stadium	23.00
Grand Chapter dues	6.00
Alumni Corporation	377.77

Monthly budget $1,359.27

Analysis of Items in Division B:

Salaries

Treasurer	$15.00
Commissar	30.00
Porter help per month	20.00
	$65.00

Activities

Athletic Equipment	$6.00
Homecoming	7.00
Dances	67.00
Publications	3.00

Music	3.00
Piano	32.00
Miscellaneous	15.00

Per Month ----- $133.00

Division A is that portion of the budget in which the alumni through its board of trustees are vitally interested. As indicated each month, the house treasurer makes a check to the treasurer of the Gamma Alumni of A. K. L. for $377.77. The alumni treasurer in turn makes payments on all bills incurred under items in Division A.

Division B is figured on a monthly basis and the total the house must raise each month on the basis of 28 men in the house is $1,359.27. Thus, when there are that number of active paying men in the house at the beginning of the month the monthly house bill is $48.55 per month; should the number increase to 29 the bill for each man is $1,381.77 divided by 29 or $47.67. The first item in Division B will vary $22.50 per man as the number increases or decreases, consequently $1,359.27 is increased to $1,381.77 to take into consideration the added expense of this man at the table. However, the overhead such as light, heat and water increases to such a small extent that the bill per man decreases as the membership increases and increases as membership decreases. With 30 paying men during the month of November, the house bill has been $46.81 for the month.

In the next issue of the Logos, I will discuss the books used, give more details of the system, and the advantages accruing to Gamma to date.

Ann Arbor A. K. L.

Officers for Zeta for the current year are George Register, president; A. D. Summers, vice president; Robert Clark, secretary; Emil Kaiser, treasurer; Thomas Dasef, chaplain.

Zeta canceled a party to be held on October 25 after the Wisconsin game due to the recent death of Brother Dahlberg. Instead the guests were entertained at a more elaborate dinner than usual. The same plan was followed after the Northwestern game, November 8. Our first social affair of the year will take place on November 22, the night of the Iowa game. This event will be our Homecoming party, and as a large number of our alumni are planning on attending, we are looking forward to this with eager anticipation.

The Craftsmen Club, composed of all students on the campus who are members of the Masonic fraternity, has on its roll of officers Evan Wylie as vice president.

Zeta has been fortunate in the men selected to wear the green diamond on their coat lapels. Twelve have been pledged so far. Zeta has been very careful in investigating the scholastic records and moral character of these men.

Plenty of Ambition.

Once more Epsilon Chapter has its name encribed on the big scholarship trophy which is awarded each semester at Wisconsin, to the active chapter having the highest scholastic average. Epsilon holds a record of 100 per cent scholarship since its installation in the spring of 1923. For the three semesters since then the cup has never left the hands of Alpha Kappa Lambda. Last semester with five Phi Betes in the house, the average was 1.927, which was slightly higher than that of the first semester. This year, Epsilon starts out with all of her Phi Betes gone, but with plenty of ambition and several candidates for that honor, and all the members are going to do their best to break the record this year. The record for fraternity scholarship was set up by a local chapter about three years ago, and it is now up to the Alpha Kappa Lambda men to set up a new one.

Beta Up One Place.

As to scholarship. Beta has not much to boast of. Owing to concerted effort of the men, she advanced one place in the scholarship standing of the Fraternities on the campus.

Climbing Higher

Zeta placed fifth among general fraternities in scholarship during the year just closed. We are far from satisfied with ourselves as we remember the excellent record set by other chapters, and so we are out to climb near the top this year.

Thomas Dasef, senior law, recently won one of the highest honors possible for a law student to obtain. Brother Dasef was appointed a member of the staff of the Michigan Law Review. This honor is conferred upon a scholastic basis only. Brother Dasef at present stands second in a scholarship for the first two years of law work in a class which began with an enrollment of slightly over 200.

The annual Dad's Day, and Dad's Day game at Illinois was held November 1. So, of course, it was Dad's Day at Gamma Chapter also.

Scholarship

Bring The Heap

Up to The Top

"Top O' the Heap" is the title of an editorial in the University of Illinois student newspaper, calling attention to Gamma's splendid scholarship record.

Gamma and the whole fraternity enjoy the honor of being at "the top o' the heap," but we should be more proud that the comment gives a hint, at least, to the reasons for Gamma's record. The reasons are A. K. L. principles.

Any member of A. K. L. who stands for our principles merely for his own good and the fraternity's, must be counted narrow. When all of us strive for our ideal as an attempt at Right Living, teaching by example to our respective campuses, A. K. L. will mean much more. When the campus says "There must be something in their method," we shall have better assurance of accomplishment than when they say "Top O' the Heap."

The editorial by William R. Franklin, Alpha Tau Omega, editor of the Daily Illini, in the issue of July 20, 1924, follows:

TOP O' THE HEAP

Alpha Kappa Lambda has again demonstrated its ability to maintain a consistently good record by tying Zeta Psi's scholastic record of climbing to the top of the heap of fraternities and remaining there for three successive semesters. This is the second time that A. K. L. has done this feat and in the past eight semesters it has headed the list of fraternities six times.

Alpha Kappa Lambda is one of the newer fraternities in the campus and it has no better opportunities to get scholars in its yearly grist of freshmen than any other house. It has built up for itself a tradition of good scholarship, which no doubt helps to perpetuate the record, but there must be a moral in the story aside from this—a moral that some of the others would do well to learn.

The fraternity is not a house of "grinds" who hit the books every night. Its social committee does not spend all its time planning to entertain the right professors at the right time. There are activity men in the group—men of whom it might almost be charged, follow their hobbies to the exclusion of studies. The house

Membership Certificates Are Now Ready

Frank F. Bloomer, national executive secretary, sends a bulletin about the new membership certificates which are now being distributed.

Accompanying his letter was a sample of the pleasingly artistic certificate which is reproduced in this issue. The decorative features of the design are in gold, brown and blue with the lettering in black. The color combination, while quite unusual, produces a very happy effect.

So successful have been the designers that this certificate fairly begs for a frame and a place on the wall. Needless to say this is not true of the usual membership record. Genuine parchment is used and it is planned to affix the seal in the lower left hand corner as well as the signatures of the national president and national executive secretary.

The certificates are being distributed to all members of the fraternity initiated after January 1, 1923, so far as the records will permit. All the certificates have been engrossed and will be sent on to the respective members as soon as President Beaver signs them.

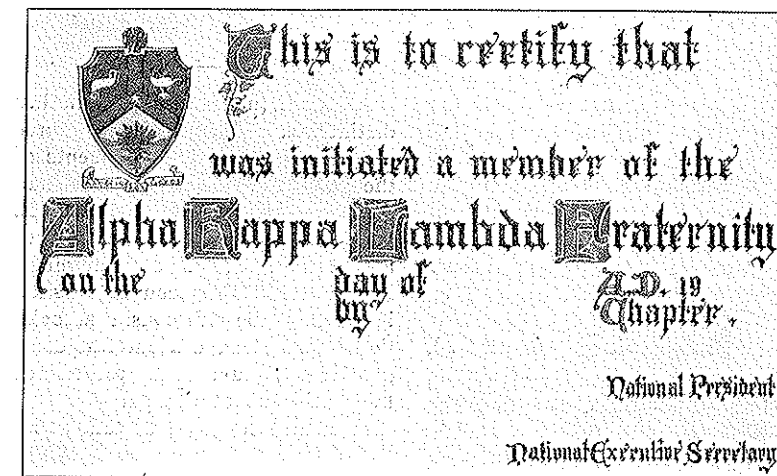

In the case of members initiated prior to January 1, 1923, the policy has been established to charge a fee of $1.00 to cover the cost of the certificate. Members desiring them should submit with their application their full name, (no initials), also the date of initiation. The records are incomplete in regard to many members, so that it is important that this information be sent in ordering certificates.

has its quota of snakes, fussers, lounge lizzards and other frivolous fellows who are supposed inevitably to bring the house average down to the "gentlemen's" grade.

And yet the house hasn't for four years fallen from its high standards and the two times that it was topped, it was still up in the money. If it tops the list next semester, it will have broken the record for consistent scholarship in any social group here.

The A. K. L.'s have for one thing a house discipline committee that functions and discipline is not a thing to be vainly striven for as a matter of policy, but a practicable working rule. For another, they have had a man for years as head of the scholarship committee who not only makes a straight A average, but has time to "be one of the boys." Consequently, his word is law, because he is respected and needs to make no apologies for his own short-comings.

Fraternities in general might pattern the election of their officers more upon fitness to serve and less because they are a senior or well liked, or for some other reason "rates" the office.

If fraternities would work to create real leaders for the future among their under-graduates and would set a goal of scholarship as something worth aspiring to as a practical end, there might be more competition at the top o' the heap.

What Zeta Men Are Doing

Frank Vreeland, who last year was an instructor in the Sociology Department, was awarded $1,200.00 fellowship for graduate study in the New York School of Social Work. Frank is now in New York and we know that his record there will be as good as at Michigan.

Alexander Burr is an Assistant Professor in the Chemistry Department of the College of the City of Detroit.

Vincent Brashear is a Chemical Engineer for the City Gas Company of Detroit.

Willard Reninger is an English Instructor in Northern High School in Detroit.

Walter Nichols is traveling for the Standard Accident Insurance Co.

George Mellen is in the Architectural firm of Smith, Hinchman and Grylls, Detroit.

Stacy Black is working in Cleveland for the White Motor Company.

Claud Graham is teaching French in the Lansing High School.

Harold Belles is working in Detroit in the insurance business.

Harold Heller is an instructor in Battle Creek High School.

J. Floyd Poindexter is teaching in Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland.

Jack Wilson, who lives at Jamestown, N. D., is taking Chemistry at Jamestown College.

William Strickler is a traveling salesman.

James Whaley is an undertaker at Cincinnati, Ky.

Charles B. Van Antwerp is in general business in Farmers, Ky.

George Crossman is an engineer at Chicago Heights, Illinois.

Arthur Heyl is a practicing physician at Elwyn, Pa.

James Jackson is an electrical engineer for Detroit Edison Co.

John Vanderwilt is an instructor in Geology in University of Colorado.

Rugh Caskey is a pharmacist in Detroit.

Kenneth Newell is a surveyor for the Union Terminal Company of Cleveland, Ohio, and is engaged at present in the building of the new Union Terminal in that city.

ZETAS JOIN "YELLOW DOGS"

John Wilson and Homer Strong, of Zeta, were among the sixteen initiates of the Yellow Dog recently. This is a national organization of men interested in teaching as a profession.

Prepare Pledge for Neophytes

Zeta has prepared a pledge for all neophytes to take. This pledge is taken by the prospective member during an appropriate ceremony given at the first evening meal after the newly-made neophyte has accepted our invitation.

In Stanford Affairs

In the athletic field Beta's outlook is not as good as it was last year. Brother Barnett, '26, who stood a good chance to make the varsity basketball squad smashed his leg in an automobile accident and so will be out of the game for some time. Brother "Rapp" Howe, '24, Beta's only dependable pitcher for intramural baseball, entered the holy bonds of matrimony, and is, the brothers fear, lost to them this year. Brother Elton Cornell, '23, last year's captain of the 145-lb. basketball team, is lost through graduation.

So much for the fatalities. To look at the other side, Brother Howe is this year's varsity soccer captain. Brother "Al" Dumphree is going out hammer and tongs for the varsity basketball team. Brother "Ken" McDougall has set his heart on making the varsity swimming team.

As to other chapter activities. Brother "Les" Peter is chairman of the newly organized Rally Committee, which has charge of rally programs and stunts for football and basketball games. Brother Barnett is also a member of the same committee. "Iron Man" "Norrie" James still writes for the Quad, Chapparal, and The Daily Palo Alto, as well as being a prominent figure in campus dramatics by the way he made one of the season's hits in Milnes' play, Dover Road. Brother McDougall has busted into Campus print as assistant editor of the annual, The Quad. "Les" Peter is secretary of the interfraternity conference, and Ellie Barnett is Senior representative to the same.

Two Zeta Men Have Hard Luck.

Thomas Dickinson, '25A, was in a trolley accident last July. Brother Dickinson received a broken leg and was discharged from the hospital in Ypsilanti the last week in October.

Paul Widger, '26, had an operation shortly before school began. He was discharged from the hospital the latter part of October. Both men are planning on returning to Ann Arbor next year. Brother Dickinson is now at work in Detroit; Brother Widger, in New York City.

Three A. K. L. Y. M. C. A.ers

A. K. L. nationally has another distinction. Members of three chapters this year are presidents of the student Young Men's Christian Associations. While Richard E. Hanson is piloting the destinies of the Y. M. C. A. at Lawrence, Kansas, Cliff Franseen of Epsilon is guiding the Wisconsin association. To make the triumvirate complete Ed Williamson is president at the University of Illinois.

It is all very well to talk about the ideals and principle of A. K. L. but the real test of whether those ideals are still transforming and forming lives in our chapters is the results. It is our ideal to value religion highly. Three Y. M. C. A. presidents in one year show that the leaven of that ideal is working. Our consistent high scholastic ratings show that our ideal of scholarship is entrenched.

Beta Sees Better

Outlook for '24-'25

Beta has a more hopeful outlook for the coming year under the able guidance of "Les" Peter, '25, President; Percy Lewis, '26, Vice President; Bolton White, '27, Secretary; "Ellie" Barnett, '26, House Manager, and Eugene Lockton, '24, Chaplain. Beta does look toward a more prosperous year. In the past twelve months many old and new difficulties have been solved; but the rushing and housing problems still remain to be overcome; although the last named has been partially settled by the partial renovation of the house. The matter of rushing is still unsolved and is likely to be so as long as the present system, which prohibits rushing of freshmen during their first two quarters in the University, exists; and as long as the authorities will not allow new buildings to be constructed upon the campus, unless the owner is connected with the University administration in some way.

In the matter of the growth of the house, Beta has a good deal to be proud of, for this year there are ten men paying board, whereas last year there were only five.

What Shall We Do About Dues?

One of the biggest problems before Alpha Kappa Lambda is the question of national finances. This will be, undoubtedly, a matter for considerable discussion at the conclave during the Christmas holidays.

Every member of Alpha Kappa Lambda knows from his own experience and from observation on his respective campus, that proper financial operation has much to do with the success of an individual fraternity chapter. In this issue Logos prints the first part of a description of the Purdue Financial Plan written by Treasurer Walt Wessman. He reports that the plan is working well at Gamma. What we are doing for local finances we must do for national finances.

On a satisfactory, well-distributed income depends the welfare of Alpha Kappa Lambda nationally. In the last issue of Logos a subscription blank was printed for the forwarding of national dues of $2. Treasurer Wessman reports the return from this was startlingly poor.

The question of national finances seems to divide itself into two phases: 1, policy; 2, methods of securing the necessary funds.

Under policy must be considered the questions: How shall the burden be divided between active chapters and alumni? Shall the alumni contributions be sought on the basis of loyalty or shall certain services be reserved to those who pay dues.

Under methods of securing funds a number of proposals may be considered. Among them are these: Shall a Logos membership blank be carried in the publication regularly? Shall each chapter be responsible for the dues payable by its alumni? Can the geographical districts laid out by Secretary Frank Bloomer, each with an alumni director, be used in the financial scheme?

In a recent letter Brother Wessman advanced still another idea—a plan of life membership or rather life privileges payable on the installment plan. At any rate Brother Wessman is coming to Madison with his coat pockets bulging with ideas and with the aid of such able administrators as President Beaver and Secretary Bloomer much will be accomplished.

To start with we will all agree with Brother Wessman's argument: "A good fraternity needs money as much as one not so good!"

Zeta Leader In Religious Work

Zeta's Thursday Evening Religious meetings were so successful last year that it has been decided to make them permanent. In addition it was voted that once a month we ask some minister or person of similar capacity to address the fellows on some phase of religious work.

About 400 students are members of the Presbyterian Young People's Society, among the officers are Pledge Fielstra, treasurer, and Brother Register, chairman of Christian Endeavor meetings; Brother Alder has charge of all music for Christian Endeavor programs for this year.

Homer Strong appeared as Agur, the physician, in The Rock, a religious drama given at the closing session of the Regional State Sunday School Convention, November 1, 1924, at Ann Arbor.

Thomas Dasef, as the Wise Man, successfully took the leading part in the Hour Glass, another religious drama presented at the Presbyterian Church Sunday Evening, November 15.

Gerritt Fielstra spent the past summer in Chicago. He was connected with the Division Street Y. M. C. A. and worked in the Laird Community House under the Presbyterian Extension Board. Pledge Fielstra is actively interested in Student Fellowship for Christian Life Service.

The Student Christian Association's annual drive for funds to carry on its work took place during the week ending November 15. John Allen was runner up among all men in obtaining money. Brother Allen's squad was high among all squads. High fraternity was Alpha Kappa Lambda and high team was number 3, Zeta's team. These results speak well for Zeta.

Six Gamma Pledges.

Six pledges are enrolled in Gamma's ranks this year. The following is a list of pledges:

James Felts, '28, of Marion, Ill., is in the L. A. S. school and is trying out for freshman basketball. Merl Tascher, '28, of Ashkum, Ill., is taking agriculture. Wilmette Rankin, '28, of Rockford, Ill., is also in the college of agriculture. Vernon Heath, '28, of Robinson, Ill., is taking Journalism and is on the staff of the "Daily Illini" and on the Freshman Frolic committee. Ray Morrison, '26, Springfield, Ill., is active in the Railway Club.

Madison Invites

When the brothers of Alpha Kappa Lambda come to Madison for the Fourth Grand Conclave, they will find it an ideal place for such a gathering. During the summer months the chapter house has been redecorated and is now in fine condition to comfortably accommodate the delegates and other members who find it possible to attend the Conclave.

Madison, squeezed like an hourglass, between two beautiful lakes, offers almost unlimited facilities for recreation and sport to occupy the leisure time of visitors between meetings and regular business. There will be skating on Lake Mendota, tobogganing on the slide on Observatory Hill, skiing on Muir Knoll, trips about the city and campus, one of the most beautiful university campuses in the country, and music, songs and a roaring fire in the den of the chapter house.

Epsilon invites and urges everyone to come to Madison who possibly can during the Christmas holidays for this gathering of the fraternity, and promises to offer the best of everything to its guests.

A Cupid and Three Hits.

Since the last issue of the Logos went to press Dan Cupid has been hovering over Gamma Chapter House at Illinois. He has hit three times: to wit, Brother Laurie Bandy, who was married June 4, and is now living happily in Champaign doing contract work, and thereby supporting the other half of his family.

Brother Earl Beem, '23, has also succumbed and was married in October to a maiden, one Reva Rock by name. Brother Beem is doing evangelistic work in the vicinity of Champaign now.

The third, and the one who has been married longest of the three, is Brother Bob Matlock, '24, president of Gamma last year. He married Margaret Hill of Yorkville—school-days and home-town romance—and the couple are now living there where Bob has donned the professional robes to aid in "edification" at the Yorkville Consolidated high school.

We have a brand new A. K. L. pledge to announce in the birth of a son to Brother and Mrs. Vern Darnel of Gamma Chapter.

To the Daughters of Alpha.

Amid the peaceful haze and colorful beauty of a California Indian summer, Alpha once more takes her post as an active unit in fraternal organizations of the West. She is justly proud of her daughter chapters, and the consistency with which they have upheld the traditions for which, as a National unit, the organization stands. It is consequently her earnest desire to regain her former leadership in scholarship, and she will never rest content until this has been accomplished. She stoutly maintains that she will overcome the handicaps which former circumstances have heaped upon her, and wishes to assure her daughters that her intentions are always for the best representation of the organization as a unit. Altho she labors at the present time under the handicap of deficient membership, in quantity, not quality, it is her constant effort to overcome this state of affairs. Few tho her representatives be at this time, she wishes to assure her daughter chapters that these representatives are carrying on the work of the fraternity and upholding its concepts with a steadiness and a purposefulness that is truly laudable. And at the same time she realizes that her daughter chapters have been quite instrumental in furnishing inspiration to fight on and win the success which reflects honor upon herself and upon the National organization. In closing, she wishes to extend hearty congratulations to her daughter chapters who have done their work so well, and have ever maintained the honor of the fraternity.

Sincerely,
Alpha of Alpha Kappa Lambda.

Getting Educated Backs

With the opening of the new year, intramural athletics are assuming a place of importance among Gamma house activities. A. K. L. had a strong team entered in the fall playground tournament, now in progress. In a few weeks bowling and basketball will take the stage. The chances are exceptionally bright in both these sports. Brother Reid Tombaugh's return has again assured us an excellent bowling team. With Brother Gordie Hull back after a year's experience with the University of Arizona Varsity quintet, the basketball squad looks strong. Brother "Doc" Yackel, '25, is a contender in the fall tennis tournament, and is coming along fine in both the doubles and singles. Lest we forget, Doc, captured the doubles cup in the summer tournament.

The editor will be charged, no doubt, with favoring his own chapter in this issue of the Logos. Part of the blame must fall on the shoulders of Eddie Liebert of Gamma Chapter who turned in such a wealth of good copy.

Any member of Alpha Kappa Lambda who has come in contact with the work of Frank Bloomer, national secretary, cannot help but be impressed with the splendid accomplishments he has wrought for the fraternity. The organization is spraddled out across the country, but Frank Bloomer is knitting it together with details which most of the members will never know about.

For one thing all members of the national council and chapters receive from him regularly paragraph summaries of the state of the fraternity. He has also worked out a loose leaf filing system for national documents which is invaluable. His districting idea for alumni with a man in charge of each geographical district has big possibilities for the welfare of the fraternity. These are just a few things Frank Bloomer has done and is doing.

This issue will have to go to press without any word from Delta.

PAUL RAGNAR DAHLBERG, 1900-1924.

Paul Ragner Dahlberg was born February 1, 1900, at Missoula, Montana, went through the Grammar school and graduated from DeKalb Township High School at the age of sixteen years.

In the fall of 1916 he entered the Northern Illinois State Normal School located at DeKalb, Ill., with the intention of taking two years there, and then going to the University, but when in his second year there, the war broke out, he with so many others felt it his sacred duty to go when his country called him. He therefore, enlisted and was sent to Camp Myers near Washington, D. C. From there he was sent to Newport News where he stayed only two or three weeks, when he was sent to Fortress Monroe, Va. There he was with the Medical Detachment at the Post Hospital during that terrible winter of the "flu" epidemic when so many of the boys died. He served in the U. S. Army sixteen months, and was honorably discharged June 28, 1919.

His parents then residing at Detroit, he sought work in that city, and was employed by the Michigan Mutual Life Insurance Company of Detroit.

In the winter of 1920 he entered the University of Michigan and again took up work in the Literary College. Working between times and going to Summer School he graduated with the Degree B. S. in the spring of 1923. He had then already taken one year in the Medical School.

The school year of 1921-1922 he was employed as teacher in the high school at Coopersville, Michigan. He enjoyed this work very much.

At the time of his death he was a Junior in the Medical School of University of Michigan.

While at Ann Arbor, he served as a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church Choir for two years and was a member of the Varsity Glee Club at the same time. He was the last president of Cygnus House Club and the first president of Zeta of Alpha Kappa Lambda. At the time of his death he was an officer of Zeta. He was a member of the cabinet of the Presbyterian Young People's Society for two years. This year he was chairman of the Religious Education Committee and was superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday School. He took an active part in the Student Christian Association, especially in the Religious Education work carried on by that organization.

Besides his offices he took a prominent part in fraternity life, being prominent in athletics and music. His scholarship was excellent. At the time of his death he was assistant in the Department of Pharmacology. Paul Dahlberg loved his work and his Fraternity, Alpha Kappa Lambda. He was always anxious to get where he could be of more service.

He was a true Christian and his desire was to live as a Christian.

Gamma, Epsilon Visited by Beaver

The affairs of existence have been treading on the heels of President Beaver, according to a note from him. However, he was able to squeeze out enough time to visit Gamma and Epsilon Chapters. He writes that he found both flourishing and in excellent spirits.

Brother Beaver reports that he has been investigating an Ohio State local. He is in communication with the members and planned to arrange a meeting between Gamma members and some of them at the time of the Illinois-Ohio game at Champaign.

Some Beta Alumni

Brother "Art" Becker, '24, is with the State Railroad Commission at San Francisco. Brother Glen McIntyre, '24, is employed as a chemist in San Francisco. Brother "Ham" Ashley is doing graduate work at the University of Paris.

Hal Drieske, of Alpha, is consistently winning his matches in the inter-fraternity tennis tournament and is now in the semi-finals.

Alpha Sports.

Although still early in the season, Alpha has a number of men represented on the various athletic teams.

Jack Newby and Bob Legge have been playing on their respective class teams in the inter-class football series. Jack is still out for the reserves, while Bob has transferred his efforts to swimming.

Bill Beard is working out regularly on the Estuary with the varsity crew. Church Newby is also a hard working crew aspirant.

Ev Peterson captained the A. K. L. baseball team in the inter-fraternity league. Alpha played its way to the semi-finals before they were finally defeated.

Frank Worthington and Bob Legge are working out as Junior managers, while pledge Ed Upton is a Sophomore manager of swimming.

Alpha entered a team in the inter-fraternity swimming meet, but failed to win the trophy.

Rans Chase, Ben Howard, Gale Hillhouse and pledge John Shaw, are working out on the track, getting ready for the Spring season.

THE GIRL I SHALL LOVE

The girl I shall love for a year and a day
Till the end of creation shall come;
Must be beautifull, gentle and dainty and sweet
And perhaps, just a little bit,— dumb.

I scorn all the wenches who argue and rave
And memorize pages of Freud;
The dame with the broad intellectual brow
Is a skirt I am going to avoid.

But I'll find some nice girl who will think I am good
Who believes I'm a tin god on wheels.
Who will love me forever, keep tidy the home
And cook for me wonderful meals.

And when I shall tell her I'll repaint the moon
Or put a new globe on the sun,
She'll just blink her adorable babybrown eyes
And murmur, "My wonderful one."

GOES TO DETROIT COLLEGE

ALEXANDER C. BURR has accepted a position with the College of the City of Detroit in the Chemistry Department. Mr. Burr graduated from Jamestown College, Jamestown, N. D., in 1920.

The following year he was principal of the high school at Velva, N. D. The next year he came to Michigan and his work along Christian lines soon brought him into contact with the men who later formed Zeta.

He received his M. A. in 1922. Brother Burr at present is teaching in Detroit five days a week, then coming to Ann Arbor where he spends Saturday in preparation for his doctor's degree. Mr. Burr is a member of the Junior Research Society and also of Phi Lambda Upsilon, honorary chemical society.

Throughout his university work he has maintained an all-A average. Brother Burr comes from a scholastic family, his father being one of the few men to receive all-A grades at Michigan law school.

Gamma Feeds A Joyful Mob

The greatest of all Illini Homecomings. And incidentally the greatest A. K. L. Homecoming that Gamma Chapter ever had. That was what happened the week-end of October 18, when 125 Gamma and Zeta Chapter A. K. L.'s, alumni, and their friends, saw Illinois romp over the Michigan eleven 39-14 in the dedicatory game in the new Illini Memorial Stadium.

It was undoubtedly the biggest time that the University of Illinois has ever experienced. Some 67,000 people packed every seat in the Stadium to see this fellow they call Red Grange gallop down the field and make four touchdowns in twelve minutes against the supposedly unbeatable Wolverines.

So that helped put the pep into the A. K. L. Homecoming. There were more alumni back, and more guests of alumni and active members than ever before. About twenty of the chapter alumni were back for the reunion, and Zeta Chapter sent down twelve men via Fords and special trains.

The program started Friday when the first alumnus rolled in—Dave Felts, '23, of the Illinois State Register, Springfield, who swore that he'd see Homecoming this year if he had to quit his job to get here. Saturday morning the stream of visitors at the chapter house grew larger. At noon nearly 100 were served lunch, cafeteria style.

After the game all people making their headquarters at the chapter house returned, where a cafeteria supper was put across the boards to 128 hungry individuals.

From six until eight o'clock the

BAITING A LINE

My Love, I might compare your teeth to fair chalcedony
Your eyes of blue, quite wondrous eyes to lapis lazuli.
I might remark that you're more fair

Than Aphrodite; you'd compare
With Helen; that your beauty rare
Is sweeter far, to me.

But Love, you are so dumb that
I'm afraid, I hesitate.
I know if I should spill that line you wouldn't get me straight.

So I must speak in language plain
In words that permeate your brain
And not in classic highbrow strain
Or metaphors ornate.

Your teeth are white as navy beans
that in my garden grow;
Your eyes are blue as morning glories; hands as white as snow;

Your hair, like cornsilks, rich and brown;
Your cheeks as soft as duckling
down;

You are the sweetest girl in town.
You've knocked me for a row.
David V. Felts.

I'd love to hurl the discus like the marble Greeks of old
And have my mantle clattered up with mugs of yellow gold.
But discus throwing has a fault and I cannot erase it
When I have thrown the thing away, I hate to have to chase it.

whole gang mixed together, met everybody and had a general good time. They at eight an A. K. L. delegation of 130 mobbed the Orpheum vaudeville playhouse, where seats had been reserved several weeks in advance for an A. K. L. Homecoming Orph party. The Orph party, as most Orph parties are, was a decided success—Alpha Kappa Lambda holding a big section in the center section of seats. After the show everybody returned to the chapter house where hats and coats et cetera were culled over by 100 individuals seeking to find their own.

Then from late Saturday night to Sunday evening the Homecomers started their leave-taking of the campus and chapter house. Most of the visitors, including the Zeta men, had to leave Saturday night. Many of the alumni were able to stay until Sunday to be present at the annual alumni breakfast of Gamma chapter.

And so at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning 54 sat down to the "ham" (Continued on page 8.)

an." About fifteen of the Gamma alumni were present as well as all the local honorary members. It was also a piece of good fortune that Howard Beaver, grand president, came down from Chicago for the game and was able to take part. There were some peppy talks by alumni and honorary members following which a short and snappy alumni meeting was held in the chapter room. That ended the official program for most of the alumni had to hike out in the morning. Dinner Sunday noon ended the crowded week-end of festivities for Gamma Chapter with the remaining alumni, the Gamma Chapter men and guests sitting around the board, too hoarse to sing chapter songs, but still able to eat.

Everything was a success—the game, the Illinois Homecoming, and the A. K. L. Homecoming. Every member of Gamma Chapter picked his blankets up off the floor Sunday night and crawled back into his own bunk again feeling that much had been done to renew and increase the fellowship of A. K. L.

All Around Epsilon

Epsilon made a very creditable record on the Wisconsin campus last year and is going to do more than ever in 1924-25. Last semester Epsilon's swimming team took second place in the inter-fraternity swim, the baseball men played some hard games and came out third in the finals of the fraternity league, and the chorus was awarded second place in the inter-fraternity sing. All these furnished the Chapter house with trophies which with the big new scholarship cup, make quite a showing for one semester.

This year Epsilon has men in all forms of activities. Irving Gerber, '25, who was declared ineligible for varsity competitive sports last year, is now assistant freshman football coach, and also assistant to Joe Steinauer, swimming coach. "Gerber" is one of the Chapter's best men for all lines of sport.

"Ed" Harget, '27, who earned his sweater in Frosh basketball last year, is trying out with the varsity squad this season and promises to be a valuable man. Ed is working his way through school and is surely making a fine record for himself.

John Gillin, '27, is searching everywhere for news for the Daily Cardinal. Anything that savors of news interests "Johnnie" and he expects every minute to find a big scoop which will win him undying fame in the newspaper world.

All of Epsilon's men are active in church work, Y. M. C. A. activities, or some other form of religious life on the campus, and also in all of the larger activities on the campus. The Chapter opened its social season with an informal dance on October 24. All enjoyed the cider, pumpkin pie, and coffee which added to the harvest atmosphere created by the decorations and the spirit of the season. The next social function will be a homecoming dance just before the Iowa game on November 14.

Stanford's Frat System Unique

The fraternities, twenty-two of them, at Stanford University, undergo what is termed one of the most unique processes of rushing and pledging of freshmen that any university faces. Unique is quite the word—in length of time, hours of rushing, methods of pledging, punishments for violations of rules.

To introduce the subject, the reader should know the general policies of the university towards freshmen. It is the purpose of the university to house all the freshmen in a dormitory, where they will live by themselves and board there also. In the long run, the university plans to house all men, fraternity or non-fraternity, in such dormitories.

Not Until April

It would, therefore, be unwise to allow pledging of freshmen to take place two weeks after their arrival here, as has heretofore been the case. Instead, there has been the sentiment passed that no freshman can be pledged until April of the school year and even then cannot live in the house regularly. To carry out the spirit of such a rule, the inter-fraternity conference decided on the following elaborate system of rushing. To begin with, it must be noted that the Stanford school year is divided into three quarters.

Bids Sent to Lawyer

There is no rushing in the autumn quarter whatever. In the winter quarter the following times have been set aside: Wednesday, 4 to 8 p. m., Friday, 4 p. m. to 1 a. m., Saturday, 12 m. to 1 a. m. and Sunday, 12 m. to 6 p. m.

The same schedule is followed for the first two weeks of the spring quarter, at the end of which sealed bids are sent to a lawyer who summons the freshmen whose names are in the bids and requests that they name their first choice of a house. If their choice agrees with that of the bid, they are considered pledged and they now wander to their respective houses to receive the pledge buttons and the warm greetings of the brothers.

That's Over With

If such a system exists in any other university, Beta Chapter would like to hear from it. Violations of the rules are summarily dealt with by the Interfraternity Council, the lightest sentence be-

Pursue Honors With Hammer and Sword

Zeta placed eighth among general fraternities and tenth among all in intramural athletics for the school year 1923-24. This is exactly where Zeta was in the race at the end of the first semester last year. Considering the fact that there are 79 fraternities competing at Michigan, this is rather a strange coincidence. Intramural athletics have again started at Michigan with speed ball, hand ball, and bowling under way, Zeta is out to climb nearer first place.

George Alder is the proud possessor of an A. M. A. sweater, given last year for Varsity track. Brother Alder throws the hammer.

Mark Ireland, who last year was a member of the fencing team, is again in this sport with excellent chances of success.

Norton Holland recently reached the semi-finals in the singles of the all-campus tennis tournament.

LeRoy Dahlberg Teaching.

LeRoy Dahlberg of the class of '25, who last year intended to enter the law school this year, has decided to remain in the Literary College for another year. Brother Dahlberg's decision came after a conference with the dean during which he was told that if his grades were as good as they previously had been, his chances of making Phi Beta Kappa were excellent. Roy wants one of those keys, so has decided to graduate from the Literary College rather than embark upon a new field. He intends to study law later.

Ann Arbor night school opened again this year. Brother LeRoy Dahlberg is again on the faculty. This is a branch of the Ann Arbor public school system.

Chicagoettes

We are very glad to announce that John Coulter has completely regained his health after a very serious illness.

Hube Knight is considering a contract with the Folies as a result of his howling success in the "Bell Review."

As this is leap year, the little Chinese girls are already saving their pennies in anticipation of Johnny Matthew's trip to the Orient.

ing two weeks suspension in rushing; the heaviest, the loss of the right to pledge men for a year. It is little to be wondered that any fraternity man at the close of such strenuous times will remark, "Thank goodness, that's over with."

E. F. Cornell, Beta, '23.

Gamma Broadcast

Brother Wendel Tascher, '24, hasn't been able to leave the good old Illini campus, and has taken up implements with the College of Agriculture as an assistant instructor in crop production.

Brother Harold Myers, '21, is showing the people in the vicinity of Virginia, Illinois, how to farm and do it right.

In Bloomington, Illinois, Brother Owen Bloodgood, '20, is holding forth, and able to drop in every once in awhile on Gamma Chapter in its activities.

"Automobiles have claimed Brother 'Red' Cassella, ex-'19, who is now selling them in Alton."

Brother Ray Van Deusen, ex-'19, is located in Greenville, Illinois, now as a road building contractor.

Brother Art Brown, '22 is still a pedagogue in Chenoa, Illinois.

Brother Rex Routh is located in Chicago, and is employed in the Traction department of the General Electric Company.

Brother Kenneth Myers, '22, is a member of the University faculty, being an instructor in the department of farm management and extension of the University.

And Brother Dave Felts, '23, still holds forth on the Illinois State Register as sports editor.

Head of the history department of Marion, Illinois, high school, that's Dick Brown.

Brother Gabrielson, '23, is still trying to sell the country on sandpaper, working for a Chicago firm.

Occupied in one of the clearing houses in Chicago is Brother "Howdy" Englebrecht, '23.

Brother Hube Knight is located in Chicago.

Brother Emery Thiel is in Chicago studying in preparation for a C. P. A. examination.

Brother Nat Fuller, '25, is out of school this semester, and is working for the Illinois Steel Company in Chicago.

Brother Vern Darnell is connected with the Kankakee High School as an instructor in the commercial department.

Brother Arnold Lundgren is working as a highway engineer, and is located in Dixon, Illinois, now.

Brother Sheadle is manager of a farm near Rockford.

Brothers Gabrielson, Englebrecht and Thiel, all located in Chicago, are rooming together at 4544 Hazel Avenue.

Brother Paul Kent is doing contracting work in Champaign.

Start Sunday Chapel

Epsilon Chapter holds a devotional period every Sunday morning at 8:45 at which time all members are required to be present. Breakfast is served at this time and the service is held about the tables. Scripture passages are read and prayers offered by members, and a short talk is given by some active member or by one of the faculty members. This is something new for Epsilon and all of the men are very much in favor of it. The spirit shown by the men in attendance and by those taking part in the meeting is fine, and the service is now a permanent institution at Madison.

California Points with Pride

California has many traditions of which we are justly proud; and not least among them is the honor system. The honor system was first inaugurated at California some years ago when Benjamin Ide Wheeler was president of the university. From its use only during the taking of examinations this ideal spirit has spread into nearly all the activities of the campus.

It has come more and more to mean the "Achievement of the Honorable." In athletics it means true and clean sportsmanship; in scholarship it means earnest and sincere endeavor; in activities and politics it means fair play. Practically, the honor system is nothing more than placing the personnel of the student body on their honor to do what is right. It is, as it were, a realization that man has a high sense of ethical justice if given but half a chance to exercise it.

While the honor system, unfortunately, has not always met with unqualified success where it has been tried, here at California, at least, we believe we have something worth while, something worth preserving. As a result the honor system works, and is among the greatest and most ideal of traditions to be found in any university or college.

R. W. C.

Brother Ev Kent is in the lumber business at Gridley, Illinois.

Brother Don Quinsey, '24, is an accountant in Joliet, working for the C. I. P. S. Company.

Brother Diz Bracken is a Y. M. C. A. secretary in Pennsylvania.

Iowa to India

With the close of the school year last June, Epsilon Chapter bid farewell to eleven of her charter members. It was hard to realize that they would not be with us when we came together again this fall. Their letters to the chapter and an occasional visit by some who are located near to Madison shows us that they have not lost interest in A. K. L.

It may be interesting to know just where they are:

Howard Beaver, Grand President of A. K. L., is now in Chicago after a summer at boy's camps.

"Uncle Oscar" Baker has been doing some scientific farming near Racine, Wisconsin. We see him about once in six months.

Walter Coult and Robert Pfeifer are studying for the ministry. Walt is at Berkeley Divinity School at Middle, Conn., and Bob is at the Harvard Divinity School at Cambridge, Mass. Carleton Meyer is also at Harvard studying law.

George Darby, or "L'enfant terrible" as he was known last year, is now an instructor in the French department here at the University of Wisconsin. Brother Gerber, who outweighs George by about one hundred pounds, is one of his pupils. Quite a disadvantage for the teacher we would say. George Keith is with the Bell Telephone Company in Chicago. No, he is not a "hello girl."

Fred Moreau is beginning to feel at home in a law office here in Madison. He states that he will not be a candidate for Attorney General this year.

Hugo Ruseh, if his post cards are any indication, is making an extended tour of the United States for a Chicago firm.

Howell Randolph is studying medicine at Johns Hopkins. His services as pitcher of our nine will be missed next spring.

Edgar Vestal is teaching agriculture at Des Moines, Iowa.

Arthur Wald sailed for India on the seventh of October to take up his work as an industrial teacher in a mission school there.

A review of this list causes us to feel that Epsilon Chapter is well represented outside of Wisconsin.

Music In Ann Arbor Air

The Zeta Orchestra, composed entirely of men in the house who play, looks for a successful season. It has been reorganized and now consists of seven pieces. Members are:

Philip E. LaRowe, Piano.

LeRoy Dahlberg, Banjo.

Roy Beatty and Rollin Fiero, Violin.

Wilbert Hartle and George Miller, Saxophones.

Homer Strong, Drums.

Norton Holland represents Zeta on the Varsity Glee Club this year. Several Zeta men are members of various church choirs in the city. These men are Beahl Perrine, Roy Winfield Adams and Phillip E. LaRowe of the Unitarian Choir; Floyd Winner of the Lutheran Choir, and George Alder of the Presbyterian Choir.

Badgers Point with Pride to—

The University Y. M. C. A.—The University Y. M. C. A. at Wisconsin has always been an organization which has done things. Perhaps the most significant event on its program is the annual religious conference. It is the purpose of this conference to bring a prominent religious speaker before the student body once a year. The attendance at such meetings usually runs close to 2,000. The student employment bureau, the rooming house bureau, the second-hand book bureau, the tutoring classes, the sick visitation at the infirmary, the Christmas parties for the poor children, and the attention given to freshmen are a few other phases of its program.

The varsity welcome—an innovation of four years ago, which has grown in favor every year. As the name implies, it is a ceremony for welcoming the freshmen. We believe that they want a formal welcome to their alma mater and experience has shown that the assumption is true. The speakers for the occasion, which is held on the first Friday afternoon of the school year, usually include the president, several prominent professors, and representative members of the student body.

The Engineers' Annual Parade. Although some of the "take-offs" in the parade perhaps wouldn't pass the board of censors at Toonerville, the engineers' annual preambulation up State Street and around the square is one of the activities to which we point with a sense of uniqueness. Upon this occasion, in honor of their patron, St. Patrick, the engineers take friendly raps at the other colleges by way of caricature and charade. The law shop usually gets a double dose.

Pledges Ducked at Dance.

Gamma Chapter stepped out and gave its first house dance of the school year—the annual pledge dance—Saturday night, October 25, at the chapter house. The season being that of pumpkin, tick-tacks and soapy windows, the decorations were of a Halloween nature. The pledges, rising to the spirit of the occasion—with little pressure—frolicked in an apple-bobbing contest much to the delight of the spectators and to the disgust of the apples. The second house dance of the semester will be held December 13 at the chapter house. And next semester—well, they say at Gamma Chapter they're already planning for the spring formal dance!

SWEETHEART SONG

Words by DAVID V. FELTS

Gather round the fireside, brothers,
When the lights are low,
Singing songs of friendship,
And days of long ago,
There comes a lovely vision, a little girl we know,
Our Alpha Kappa sweetheart, our Kappa Lambda girl.

Shadows fall behind us,
As we face the firelights glow,
So all our cares will vanish,
As through the years we go,
In the mystic mellow lovelight of the sweetest girl we know,
Our Alpha Kappa sweetheart, our Kappa Lambda girl.

(As Epsilon Sings It)

Dear Old A. K. L.

Dear old A. K. L. long may she stand,
For Christian fellowship, all through the land,
Though years may sever, may we be true,
To one another and A. K. L. to you.

Dear old A. K. L. thou wilt remain,
To quicken memory and bring again,
Brothers to brothers, still strong and true,
To one another and A. K. L. to you.

Wearing Gamma's

Colors on Campus

Another year has rolled around and with its coming Gamma Chapter of Alpha Kappa Lambda is once more taking a strong lead in University of Illinois campus activities. Nearly every brother this year is connected with some form of church and campus activity and in some cases several are interested in more than one.

The Y. M. C. A. and Wesley Foundation probably have more Gammas than any other campus organization. Brother Ed. Williamson, '25, is president of the "Y" and on several committees of the "Y" and in the cabinet are Brothers James Kahlert, Eddie Leibert, '25, Reid Tombaugh, '26, Robert Bower, '27, Harold Tascher, '26, Torre Stearns, '25, Gordon Hull, '25, Harry Schlenz, '22, and pledge Orland Heaton, '28.

The following are on the student council of the Wesley Foundation: Gordon Hull, Reid Tombaugh, Paul Jones, '27, George Osbeck, '25, Willard Hayworth, '26, and Charles Kingsbury. Three brothers are taking journalism and are on the "Daily Illini" staff. Eddie Leibert, members of Sigma Delta Chi and Pi Delta Epsilon, is conducting the literary column. He is also serving as a member of the student honor committee which is trying to bring the honor system back to Illinois. Irving Dillard and Vernon Heath, '28, are reporters. "Dill" is a candidate for news editor next year.

Brother Kinderman, '26, is on the Varsity basketball squad and is looming as a first string pitcher next spring. Despite an injury last year he received his "I."

Brother "Red" Brune is out for football. Pledge James Felts, '28, is out for Freshman basketball. Wilmette Rankin, '28, is out for freshman football and Brothers Nathan Bliff, '27, and Harry Schlenz, '27, are out for sophomore managerships in baseball and football respectively.

Joy Frederick, '25, is a member of Alpha Zeta, and Alpha Tau Alpha, and William Preston, '25, is a member of Delta Sigma Pi. Harry Schlenz is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, scholarship honor society, and of Mu San. E. G. Williamson is a member of Ma-Wan-Da, senior honorary fraternity, and Charles Kingsbury is a member of Omega Beta Pi.

Reid Tombaugh and Willard Hayworth are both on the staff of the Illinois Agriculturist. Waitman Flowers, '27, is in the band and Paul Jones in the first Men's Glee Club.

Ken Shopen, '25, president of Gamma, is art editor of the Illio, the Illinois year book and also a member of "Daubers" and Pirot, dramatic societies of the University. Harry Schlenz is also a first lieutenant in the R. O. T. C.

With such an array in campus activities, Gamma has every reason to believe that she will not only excel in scholarship this year but that she will carry on her share of student activities and that many of her men will be learning practical lessons in leadership.
