- Alpha Rho Chapter (UTEP) set a fall goal of four and has now signed 12 new members, doubling its annual goal of six, with recruitment still underway.
- Gamma Delta Chapter (Montevallo) welcomed 13 new members, powering past its full-year goal of 10.
- Gamma Rho Chapter (Arizona State) began the fall working toward a goal of 10 and now stands at an incredible 22 new members.
- Gamma Omicron (Dalton State), Chi (PennWest- Cal), and Beta Omicron (JMU) have already reached their fall recruitment goals and are continuing to build for the future.
- Kappa (Purdue), Sigma (Central Missouri), and Alpha Phi (Idaho) are also reporting strong numbers and creating even more excitement across the Fraternity.

From the Desk of the Executive Director

Brothers and Friends,

This year, Alpha Kappa Lambda is building on the momentum created by last year's expansion and return opportunities. In this edition of Inside AKL, you will read more about those efforts and the extensive work underway to help our current chapters grow their membership. We are already hearing that several chapters exceeded their annual targets in the first semester.

Health and safety remain a central focus for our Fraternity. That responsibility extends beyond planned activities and chapter houses to each member's physical and mental well-being. As brothers, we look out for one another, especially when someone is struggling with substance abuse, depression, or another serious challenge. This year, we will devote significant time to helping our undergraduates build healthy habits, recognize warning signs, and respond when a brother may need help. In this issue, we begin with practical back-to-school habits and guidance for supporting a brother in need.

Together, these efforts reflect the strength of our brotherhood: growing our chapters, caring for our members, and sustaining the Fraternity for the future.

As always, our online store features merchandise from several vendors for brothers and friends who want AKL gear. The Founders Rock Napa Valley wine program also continues to perform well, and members of legal drinking age who enjoy bourbon can watch for a limited-release announcement in the coming months. We are sometimes asked why the Fraternity offers these products and partnerships. Each affinity program helps support the Fraternity's work and allows us to keep undergraduate fees competitive. With a range of options available, we hope every member can find a meaningful way to support AKL.

Fraternally,

Jeremy Slivinski, Alpha Kappa Lambda
Executive Director & Chief Executive Officer

AKL Growth Continues Across the Country

Alpha Kappa Lambda is continuing to grow, with active provisional chapters developing at the University of Illinois, James Madison University, and SUNY Plattsburgh, along with a new expansion effort scheduled to begin in Michigan this October.

Each of these efforts represents an important opportunity to introduce more students to AKL's values and provide them with the chance to become Men of Character Committed to Making a Difference. While each group is at a different point in its development, they share a commitment to building strong brotherhoods founded on leadership, scholarship, service, accountability, and the Five Ideals of Alpha Kappa Lambda.

Gamma Returns to Illinois

The return of Gamma Chapter at the University of Illinois is well underway. The current group has already brought together 25 interested students who are working with National Headquarters and alumni to build the foundation for a successful and sustainable chapter.

Throughout the Fall semester, these men will continue developing their chapter operations, recruiting additional members, establishing a strong presence on campus, and building connections with Gamma alumni. The return of one of AKL's historic chapters is an exciting moment for the entire Fraternity and an opportunity to begin a new chapter in Gamma's proud history.

Beta Omicron Reestablishes at James Madison

At James Madison University, the return of Beta Omicron is also moving forward with an active group of 13 interested students who reached out late Spring semester. What began with interest from a legacy student who wanted to bring AKL back to campus has developed into a growing brotherhood committed to building something meaningful at JMU.

The men are continuing to recruit, develop their leadership structure, and work toward establishing a chapter that will make a positive contribution to the university and its fraternity and sorority community. Their initiative and enthusiasm have created a strong starting point for Beta Omicron's return.

AKL Growth Continues Across the Country

Building a New Brotherhood at SUNY- Plattsburgh

AKL is also actively working with a provisional chapter at SUNY- Plattsburgh. The group already has members who are beginning the work of creating a strong chapter culture, expanding their membership, and introducing the Fraternity to the campus community.

As the group grows, National Headquarters will continue providing education, recruitment assistance, operational guidance, and leadership development. These early members have the unique opportunity to shape the identity and traditions of AKL at SUNY- Plattsburgh for generations to come.

University of Michigan, Zeta Chapter, Expansion Begins in late-September

The Fraternity's next expansion effort will begin at Michigan in October. National Headquarters will work to identify and recruit students who are interested in leadership, service, academic success, and the opportunity to build a fraternity experience centered on AKL's values.

Alpha Kappa Lambda Looking to Reestablish Alpha Theta Chapter at the University of Wisconsin- Eau Claire

Alpha Kappa Lambda has begun engaging with university officials to identify a path toward reestablishing the Alpha Theta Chapter at the University of Wisconsin- Eau Claire. National Headquarters is excited to strengthen this partnership and explore opportunities to bring AKL's brotherhood back to campus.

How Brothers and Alumni Can Help

Successful growth requires support from the entire Fraternity. Brothers and alumni can assist these efforts by:

- Referring students who attend one of these institutions;
- Sharing professional knowledge and chapter experience;
- Supporting recruitment and alumni-engagement efforts; and
- Helping these students understand the lifelong value of AKL membership.

The progress at Illinois, James Madison, and SUNY Plattsburgh, along with the upcoming Michigan and Eau Claire expansions, demonstrates the continued strength and relevance of Alpha Kappa Lambda's mission. Growth is about more than increasing the number of chapters or members. It is about creating opportunities for more students to experience brotherhood, develop as leaders, serve their communities, and carry the Five Ideals throughout their lives. Alpha Kappa Lambda is being built today, one student and one campus at a time.

Health & Safety

The Risk Is Not Worth It

Amusement devices and similar high-risk activities can pose a serious risk of injury to participants and create significant financial and legal exposure for individual members and the chapter. Alpha Kappa Lambda's insurance program does not encourage activities such as slip-and-slides, bounce houses, inflatable games, mechanical bulls, dunk tanks, jousting units, temporary pools, and similar devices, and chapters should not use them at any chapter-sponsored or chapter-related event.

This applies whether the activity is:

- Owned, rented, borrowed, or provided by another organization;
- Operated by a chapter member, vendor, or third party;
- Held on chapter property, campus property, or at an off-site location;
- Part of a recruitment, social, brotherhood, philanthropy, or alumni event; or
- Informally organized or promoted by chapter members.

Calling an activity “unofficial” does not necessarily eliminate responsibility. If the event is planned, promoted, funded, attended, or reasonably associated with the chapter, the chapter and its members may still face serious consequences.

What Should Chapters Do?

Chapter officers and members must:

- Do not rent, purchase, borrow, construct, or use amusement devices for chapter-sponsored or chapter-related activities.
- Review all proposed events with the chapter's executive board and risk manager before signing contracts, spending chapter funds, or advertising the event.
- Communicate these expectations to the entire membership, including new members and alumni involved in chapter activities.
- Do not assume that a vendor's insurance makes an activity acceptable or protects the chapter.
- Select safer alternatives that do not create an unnecessary risk of serious injury.
- Contact National Headquarters before proceeding if there is any question about whether an activity or device is permitted.

Health & Safety

The Risk Is Not Worth It

Pets in Chapter Facilities and at Chapter Events

The Fraternity's general liability and property insurance policies do not provide coverage for incidents involving pets in chapter facilities or at chapter-sponsored events.

Why This Matters

Chapter houses are high-traffic, communal living environments that are generally not designed to accommodate pets. Animals can create significant health and safety concerns, including aggressive or unpredictable behavior, allergens, sanitation issues, noise, property damage, and interference with residents or guests.

Even a seemingly minor incident can result in substantial medical expenses, repair costs, legal claims, or other financial consequences. Without applicable insurance coverage, those costs may become the responsibility of the pet owner, individual members, the chapter, or the local alumni housing corporation.

Prohibition on Pets

Pets are not permitted inside chapter houses, other chapter facilities, or at chapter-sponsored events. Members may not temporarily house, visit with, foster, or keep a pet at a chapter facility. This prohibition applies regardless of the animal's size, temperament, ownership, or length of stay. Chapters and local housing corporations are expected to enforce this policy consistently. Members and alumni may not grant exceptions on their own.

Service and Assistance Animals

This prohibition does not apply to service animals or other assistance animals when their presence is required as a reasonable accommodation under applicable federal, state, or local law. Service animals are not considered pets. Requests involving an assistance animal in chapter housing should be referred promptly to the local housing corporation for appropriate review.

When in Doubt, Stop and Ask

A successful event is one where everyone returns home safely. No recruitment event, social activity, or brotherhood program is worth risking a life-altering injury. Protecting the health and safety of members, guests, residents, and visitors requires consistent enforcement. Questions about this policy or a requested accommodation should be directed to Alpha Kappa Lambda National Headquarters.

Tips for a Healthy and Successful Semester

The beginning of a new semester is an opportunity to reset, establish positive habits, and make intentional decisions about the months ahead. Whether you are returning to campus or beginning college for the first time, the transition can bring a mixture of excitement, pressure, uncertainty, and new responsibilities. Classes, chapter activities, friendships, work, and personal commitments can quickly compete for your time and attention.

Success this semester will not be determined by one exam, one difficult week, or one mistake. It will be built through the choices you make each day: attending class, managing your time, taking care of your physical and mental health, fulfilling your responsibilities, and asking for help when you need it. Developing these habits early can help you remain focused and prepared when the semester becomes more demanding.

As you begin the semester, take time to consider what you want to accomplish and what habits will help you get there. The following tips can help you build a strong foundation for your academic success, personal well-being, and responsibilities as a brother of Alpha Kappa Lambda

Set Yourself Up for Academic Success

Show up from the beginning.

Attend every class, especially during the first few weeks. Consistent attendance helps you understand expectations, build relationships with professors, and avoid falling behind.

Build your calendar early.

Once you receive your syllabi, enter assignments, exams, meetings, chapter events, and other important deadlines into one calendar. Planning makes it easier to balance academics, fraternity responsibilities, work, and your social life.

Create a weekly routine.

Set aside specific time for studying, meals, exercise, sleep, chapter responsibilities, and downtime. A realistic routine is more valuable than waiting until you feel motivated.

Ask for help early.

One difficult class, missed assignment, or challenging week does not have to define your semester. Addressing a problem early gives you more options and keeps a manageable concern from becoming a crisis.

Health & Safety

Tips for a Healthy and Successful Semester

Make Your Mental Health a Priority

Protect your sleep.

Most adults ages 18–60 should get at least seven hours of sleep each night. Adequate sleep supports attention, memory, stress management, and mood.

Take care of the basics.

Regular movement, balanced meals, hydration, and time with supportive people can improve energy, focus, and overall well-being. Even small, consistent actions can make a difference.

Give yourself time to adjust.

Returning to campus can be exciting and stressful at the same time. Avoid comparing your semester, schedule, friendships, or progress to someone else's.

Take breaks before reaching exhaustion.

Rest is part of being productive. Make room for activities that help you recharge, and pay attention to changes in your mood, energy, sleep, or ability to complete everyday responsibilities.

Be a Good Student—and a Good Brother

Fraternity membership should strengthen your college experience, not compete with your education or well-being;

Check in with your brothers personally and academically.

Respect someone's decision to study, rest, miss an optional event, or avoid alcohol.

Follow through on your commitments and communicate when you need assistance.

Pay attention when a brother's mood, behavior, appearance, attendance, or level of involvement changes significantly.

Reach out privately when you are concerned, listen without judgment, and help connect him with appropriate support.

Need immediate support? Call or text 988 or visit 988lifeline.org to connect with the 988 Suicide & Crisis Lifeline. Support is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. If someone is in immediate danger, call 911.

Fraternity Growth & Recruitment

Every member of Alpha Kappa Lambda must be committed to recruitment for any organization to grow sustainably. Fraternity recruitment should not be the sole responsibility of the Executive Board or Recruitment Chair.

Every year, the National Fraternity sets Recruitment Minimum Targets for each AKL chapter. These minimums are based on campus size, past recruitment results, and input from chapter leadership. The following chart is the current academic year recruitment minimums and results.

Online Education, Training, & Resources

AKL
Foundations

AKL Foundations is a required educational program delivered during the New Member Entry Process, designed to develop new members into strong leaders by addressing the key challenges faced by college students today. As members of the Greek community, students serve as campus leaders and role models. In these roles, they may encounter difficult and complex situations. How they respond to these challenges shapes their growth into effective leaders who contribute positively to their campus communities. While members may not personally face every challenge, they may support brothers or friends who do.

Omega Chapter

"My Brothers and friends, we are assembled to remember those once among us who have received their calling from on high and passed into the eternal Omega Chapter of the Fraternity of Alpha Kappa Lambda.

This is at once a time of sorrow at the loss we have all sustained, and the celebration of the many happy memories we will hold dear forever.

The fraternal tie that binds is a lasting bond; yet a place once filled among us is now empty; a voice once known to us is now silent; the form we grew to know, and welcome will no longer be seen by us in this life. Yet, these Brothers are alive in the hearts and the memories of us all and will ever be held dear in the 'halls of AKL.'

It is fitting that we here pause and reflect upon the transience of life and remember those who have come and gone before us.

And we answer for every Brother named, 'Present' for though we can no longer grasp their hands in friendship nor look them in the eye, they are seen and heard with the eyes and ears of faith... the faith that someday we will meet again."
